Consolidated Railroad Co. Notice to Holders of Certificates of Deposit

for First Consolidated Mortgage Five Per Cent. Bonds: The Committee appointed by holders of the Fire

olidated Mortgage Bonds of this Company has found it impracticable to prepare a plan of reor-ranisation, because it has been unable to agree upon antisfactory terms with the Committees rep ing prior lien Bonds. A majority of the Certificates for Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, and also a majority of the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Railroad Company First Mortgage Bonds, of the Evansville, Rockport and Eastern Railroad Com pany First Mortgage Bonds, and of the Hunting-First Mortgage Bonds, have now been acquired by plan of reorganization to which the Southern Rallway Company is a party. Reference is mad to the advertisement of such plan for further parffered to the holders of Consolidated Mortgage Morean & Co. are fair, and are at least as ained by this Committee in any other way. The Committee therefore recommends to the holders of such Bends that they deposit the same under the Bondholders' Agreement of May 1, 1895, and directed the return of the bonds deposited thereunder. Holders of Certificates of Deposit for Con-solidated Mortgage Bonds, deposited under that Agreement, may, without charge, withdraw their Bonds from the depositary, the New York Security

Readjustment of Affairs

45 WALL STREET, NEW YORK, July 8, 1900.

To the Creditors of Messrs. Price, McCormick & Co.

Forty-two days ago Messra Price, McCormick & Co. found it necessary to suspend payment, and made a General Assignment under the laws of the State of New York to Mr. William J. Curtis.

The business and operations of the firm were very extensive, including the English as well as American stock and cotton markets. The active accounts upon their books numbered over eleven hundred; the indebtedness amounted to about $13,000,000, and the secured loans to over $10,000,000. From this statement it would not be unreasonabl to expect that the sudden stoppage of such a large organization would necessarily involve enormou well as to the members of the firm, who have rendered every possible assistance), to state that over $8,000,000 (involving many complications) have been adjusted and determined; only a small amount of securitie have been sold under forced conditions since the Assignment; and that the remaining loans are now being carried and daily diminished.

Our plan, by which quatomers were induced to take up their securities at the then market prices and to leave the deficiency thereon as a general claim agains the assigned Estate, worked admirably; while the banks and bankers holding loans have responded n the most considerate and broad-minded manne to the requests of the Assignee and the undersigned for the withholding of collateral from sale. To both classes of creditors, the Assignee, counsel, and firm classes of creditors, the Assignee, counsel, and firm record their gratitude.

On the 23d ultimo, the Assignee filed his official schedules as of May 24, 1900, but I have no doubt that you will have appreciated that the assets (those in the hands of the Assignee redeemed from the loans which he has paid off, as well as those still standing as collateral to the unpaid loans) are still subject to the fluctuations of the markets; and also that the liabilities may be increased. These conditions are incident to a business of this magnitude and variety. In closing the numerous accounts, I believe that the liabilities will be increased at least two hundred thousand dollars above all former estimates.

In this case, however, as is characteristic of most active banking concerns, some of the securities are of a kind not immediately marketable at advantageous prices, and require special prudence and skill, as well as time, for the realization of the best results. I believe that if certain of the securities of this class are not now thrown upon the market they will, within two years (and some at an early date), produce a much larger sum. The chief asset of this character is about twenty thousand shares of the Philadelphia Company years (and some at an early date), produce a much larger sum. The chief asset of this character is about twenty thousand shares of the Philadelphia Company towning street railroads, natural gas, artificial gas, and electric light and power properties in Pittsburgh, consolidated last year under the auspices of the well-known banking house of Brown Brothers & Co.). This Company pays dividends of five per centum per annum upon its capital stock. The present market price of the shares is shirty-five dollars (par value fifty dollars). The stock has sold at par.

The Assignee cannot hold the securities referred to for the requisite period, and it, therefore, becomes necessary to devise some other method of preserving and securing the equity in the assets of this class.

We might permit the law to take i

It is not practicable for the Assignee promptly to listribute fifty per centum in cash.

Recognizing, however, the advantages to Creditor. of the immediate use of money in their affairs and to facilitate their needs or desires, and to anticipate the realization upon assets of the kind referred to, I have negotiated and arranged for loans to the Trustees of an amount which, together with such sum as it may be practicable for the Assignee to distribute at the same time, will afford the means for the immediate payment of fifty per centum upon the approved claims ecured by assets held by the Trustees (other than those distributed under the Plan), and to run for the The annual income from such assets is at present Accordingly, I have prepared and submit herewith, Plan for the readjustment of affairs, with the view the realization of the best and quickest results to

The Plan, in effect, provides for: (a) The immediate discharge of all outtanding loans, and the redemption of the remaining collateral thereon.

(b) The prompt distribution of afty per centum in cash to Creditors availing of the respect of certain important assets which are sacrifice, and from which securities it is anticipated much better results will be realized during the period of the trust and under the prudent management of the Trustees.

by the Trustees, from time to time, of the net including any further dividends paid by the Assigneet due allowance, of course, being made as to the respective rights and interests of Creditors availing of the alternative

(e) The prompt winding up of the General Assignment.

It is to be understood that I assume no personal responsibility respecting the statements contained herein and in the Plan and Agreement, as the same his competent experts; and also, that I make no state ment and give no prognostication as to the additional amount which may be received by such Creditors (each Creditor being himself the judge upon this point), but it will be substantial; and it will be noted that under this Plan the depositing Creditors get all their that they obtain the major portions of it at once, with that all the remaining equity will be prudently man aged, and in due course be distributed by the Trustees

I carnestly advise the prompt adoption of the Plan Mesers. James G. Cannon (Vice-President of the Pourth National Bank), Brayton Ives (President Metropolitan Trust Co.), and Wm. Lanman Bull (o)

UNITED BOWLING CLUBS PESTIVAL. Local Experts at the Pins and With Ride Win the Most Prizes.

The monster festival and bowling tourns ment under the supervision of the United Bowling Clubs is now under way at Schuetzen Park, Union Hill, Jersey City. Fully five thousand persons journeyed to the park yesterday to take part in the opening day's festivities. Although the star attraction will be the team tournament, enough interest was manifested in the individual competitions by the many bowlers to keep the pin boys busy from early afternoon until late at night. At 2 o'clock sixteen bowlers stepped on as many alleys and at a signal each man rolled a ball down the polished strips, which meant that the festival was under way. A moment later the seekers of prizes took off their coats and there was a lively time among the contestants to capture the first trophy. Henry Feldmann was the lucky man. The visiting players made a good showing and will undoubtedly carry off a share of the prizes. The list of out-of-town bowlers is as follows:

them. Erne will leave his quarters at Fair Haven, N. J., at 3 o'clook this afternoon and take things easy, for he is not at all uneasy about increasing his weight. He is several pounds below the limit, 128 pounds. McGovern's seconds will be Terry Lee, Dan Dougherty, Charley Mayhood and Sam Harris. Erne's handlers will be Joe Saltz, Frank Zimpfer and Jim Fitspatrick. Straight Marquis of Queensberry rules will prevail and Charley White will be referee.

Both pugilists had many visitors at their respective quarters yesterday. McGovern im-he will be defeated. They argue that the longer the mill goes the better advantage Erne will receive.

The betting figures are still at evens and the indications are that the price will not change until the sports get an opportunity of sizing both puglists up when they get into the ring. Many strangers are in town to see the mill. Most of the visitors are from Buffalo, Erne's home. Nate Fenton is here with a big bunch of greenbacks to hazard on the lightweight. He says he has no fear of the result, despite the fact that Erne has to put Terry out to win. Many of the Boston sports are in town. Jimmy Colville, Jack Sheehan and Tim Burns are expected this morning. The Montreal delegation will arrive this alternoon. In the party will be Eddie Kennedy, 'Tip' O'Nell, George Kennedy, Jack Humphries and Jack Kennedy. They are all McGovern 'rooters.'' Jim Wakely says if he bets at all he will not wager until to-night. He thinks the battle will be finished before the limit arrives. Jim Corbett, when asked for an opinion, said:

"I expect to see one of the best struggles of the year. It is so even that I can't pick a winner. Erne has to knock Terry out to win, you know. Will he do it? Well, that's a question which I cannot very well answer. I predict a large crowd, and fancy that over $50,000 will be wagered on the fight."

Jack Rose of Bridgeport informed a reporter of The Sun last night that he has a commission of $5,000 to back McGovern at even money.

OFF DAY ON SPEEDWAY. THREE PUTILE ATTEMPTS TO TRY OUT PAGE AND ELMIRA.

Boone Wilkes and Oscar Break Even-Robert C. Proves His Quality-Boom in Wagon Racing Among the Amateurs-Agitation for a Track in Van Cortlandt Park. Only a corporal's guard of dyed-in-the-wool enthusiasts drove their trotters and pacers up the road yesterday. The heat fairly melted the horses and blistered the paint on the wagons, so fiercely did the sun beat down on the rock-ribbed driveway. The long walk from the viaduet to Washington Bridge was not tempting with the mercury up in the nineties, and there were fewer pedestrians along the usually crowded sidewalks than at any time this section Those who were present just miseed witnessing one of the most interesting brushes that could have been arranged. The two crack trotters, Page and Elmira, were on the road, each one hooked to a light two-wheeler and apparently in search of big game. Page has a record of 2:00%, while Elmira is eligible to stand in the 3:00 class. But those who frequent the Speedway are almost equally divided in oninion as to which is the faster horse. Both have shown sensational speed under the watch on the straight driveway. They have never met, however, in a fair, square trial of speed when each was on edge.

Three separate attempts were made yesterday to settle the question of supremacy. E. O. Binzen, who drove Elmira, and Isaac Fleming, who was up behind Page, jogged their horses up toward Dyckman street shortly before noon and turned for a brush. Page got four lengths the better of the start as they wheeled to go down the road. The driver of Elmira had no notion of conceding so great an advantage to the 2:10 trotter, and as he took his mare back to a jog he called out to Fleming: "Don't go down. I'm not going to chase you from a start like this. ters went back to try again. Once more the long-bodied bay gelding went off so far in front that Elmira's driver declined to give chase. A third trial appeared to be on the point of resulting successfully when a reckless outsider turned squarely across the road in front of Elmira, forcing Mr. Binzen to take her back ing went home with Page after this flasco and rendered by the judges in dealing with the amateurs, there was nothing to mar the aftermoon's sport.

Apropos of the delay in starting the races and the inexcusably late hour at which the sport ended, the last heat of the fine struggle between Ivandorf and Musqueton witnessed a novel scene. Just as the horses were scoring for the start in deepening twilight a hansom cab was driven out on the lawn near the judges stand, that its occupants might better distinguish the shadowy forms of the trotters. The lamps of the vehicle were aglow and they threw a stream of light which perhaps assisted the timers to see in the darkness the position of the hands on the dial. The heat was trotted at 7:45 and it was 9 o'clock when the belated crowd arrived at the Grand Central Station.

Officers of the Road Drivers' Association are working for a trotting track for amateur sport in Van Cortlandt Park. Their plea is that as golf, tennis, baseball, and many other out-door sports have special fields in the parks, they want the Park Board to do as much for the distinctively American sport of trotting horses. As all forms of betting are strictly prohibited and the prizes competed for are never money prizes, but ribbons and cups and trophies merely, they contend that no valid objection can be made against this particular branch of horse racing. There is a splendid field for a track north of the old Van Cortlandt mansion near Broadway. The ground is as level as a barn floor, and a fine track might be made there by merely rolling up the sod. No grand races as the road drivers propose.

York, Livingston still leads, but the K. A. C. is working nearer and nearer the desired goal and will make

The American Model Yacht Club's midsummer regatta was held yesterday off the clubhouse, South Brooklyn. The first event was for the big fellows, windward and return. The entries and starters were: Henrietta, J. D. Casey; Buckeye, Edward Antenen; Alpha, J. Olsen; and Mirage, L. C. Hopkina. The Henrietta won the first heat, turning the outer mark a long way in advance of her nearest competitors, and finished, running free, with the Alpha accond and Mirage third. In the second heat it was any one's contest up to the last gybe for the stakeboat, where Veteran J. D. Casey got his boat to the fore and won out again, with the Alpha again second.

One of the most successful model yachting events ever decided in this vicinity took place yesterday under the auspices of the New York Model Yacht Club. The course was a half-mile off Steinway. William Murray's champlen, The Foam, won in the special race for the club prize. The No. 3, owned by William H. Muff, was second, and the Ripple, Ogle and Webber, was third. In the race for the Blauvelt cup, salled in one heat, The Foam won again, with the Ripple second. The race for the third class aloops was salled in one heat, and the Vim, owned by J. Smythe, wen, with the Sinner, P. Murray, second. windward and return. The entries and starters were:
